DISTINCTIVENESS OF THE INSTITUTION

KRIC (Krupanidhi Research Incubation Centre)

1. Objective of the practice: To develop research culture among all its faculty and students.

To inspire and ignite the young minds in research, in all disciplines by conducting training programs, bringing subject experts from various research institutes as well as from multinational companies.

The college practices the culture of motivating students to ensure that they overcome their individual challenges and excel in their studies.

Innovative ideas of the students are also put into practice.

To encourage qualitative research in the institution at all levels and strive to publish the papers under SCOPUS Indexing Standards.

2. The context

Research Education is a tool of development in today's scenario. The classification of nation is depending on the status of research education in respective society. Country emerging and exploring in many sectors having a great impact on the development of society and also the future era of society to meet the demands to have many new changes which can only happen with a proper RESEARCH education.

Krupanidhi Group of Institutions has a dream to impart quality education in all spheres and to nurture research skills amongst the staff and students, which has been materialized through research incubation centre at the college. It's also an effort to contribute to the betterment of society. KRIC has been established on this noble idea.

It motivates faculty and students by outlaying multidisciplinary research projects, encouraging them to attend seminars/conferences, to become members in professional bodies, seeking research funds from national funding bodies, publishing their research work in standard indexed/Scopus journals, aiding in patent filing strategies, etc. Added credentials of research publications in students' progress will give a fillip to their career development, whereas, results in enhancing quality of teaching deliverance of faculty.

3. The practice

Based on multitasking abilities having research experience, topic interest/area of interest in research the faculties are handpicked for this unique programme.

Students who are recognized as fast learners are chosen collaborated with faculty mapping with their area of interest.

Additional care for the faculties who are chosen are allotted with research hours in their individual time tables, which helps in daily interaction with the research experts.

KRIC has a tie up with Accendere company to get excellent research experts from India's top most institutions like IIM, IIT and NIT, who mentor faculty and students on various aspects of research process extending from basic level to advanced level.

Research mentor guides them with practical application of the knowledge at each stage. Mentor also gives inputs on development of questionnaires, application of statistical tools and techniques, use of SPSS software and so on.

Quality of the work is monitored at each level and suggestions for improvement are given by research mentor and subject experts.

Drillbit a software that detects the plagiarism to ensure the originality of the research work which is put into practice by K-RIC.

Faculties and Students also have privilege of getting the online interaction with experts, professionals through video conferences and skype sessions etc., Additional care for students as well by the particular group faculty members in turn to have an interaction with students once in a week.

4. Evidence of success

To become a part of this programme registration is compulsory for Faculty and students without extracting any fee to carry out research in various streams such as Health Sciences, Commerce, Management and Computer Science etc., research topics which have SCOPUS or UGC indexing standards.

Research Publications fee as well as registration fee of conferences and seminars attended by the faculties and students are funded by K-RIC.

The financial year schedule is followed since KRIC started, so that the academic schedule does not get disturbed in order to give more space for research when the semester ends twice in a year. With all the research support and the privileges given by the programme ,faculty and students successfully published and presented quality papers in SCOPUS and UGC Indexing Standards –

5. Problems encountered

Faculties and students are actively involved in the research activities and look forward for learning the advanced level of research tools and techniques, however, they are packed tight with the academic schedule and having only one hour allotted for research which is not sufficient.

To overcome this issue the college has taken a step to allot more number of research hours for the faculties during the period of University Examinations at the end of the semester based on their outcome and progress in reference with financial year schedule.

6. Resources required

KRIC is working on bringing in quality in research papers and publish in journals which have better indexing standards and impact factor. Looking forward to get

1. Research Experts
2. Member Faculties
3. Member Students.
4. E Journals and books
5. Software's required for writing quality papers.

Abstract

The Indian management education sector is experiencing a highly competitive and complex environment today. Following which, the Universities and other higher educational institutions have realised the importance of being distinct from their competitors. One of the major pathway to do so is maintaining high standards in educational service quality which will foster developing positive bonding with the students. The present study is carried out with an objective to explore the dimensions influencing the service quality in management education particularly in public university system and to prioritize the dimensions from the perspective of management students. The study engaged exploratory factor analysis and independent RIDIT analysis methodology to analyse the survey responses of 211 management students of public universities. The analysis yielded seven perceived service quality dimensions, namely physical factors, leisure factors, academic factors, industry collaborations, responsiveness, learning outcome and personality development as perceived by the students from EFA. The individual items of these dimensions were then prioritised using RIDIT analysis for further interpretations and business insights. This study may benefit the university decision makers in business studies to formulate policies and strategies to assure superior students satisfaction which can later benefit the university by showing positive behavioural intentions.

Keywords : Perceived service quality, management education, RIDIT analysis, student satisfaction, higher education

I. Introduction

Management education in India has witnessed a phenomenal growth and notable transformations in the last few decades, since its inception in the 1950s (Mahajan et al., 2014). The transformations occurred because of various reasons including globalization and global competition, rapid technological, social and economic

Abstract

Objectives: The aim of this study is to analyze the impact of work environment on employee performance and to establish the ranks and prioritize the items related to work environment (WE) in order to maximize employee performance. Methods: Descriptive methodology was used for the study. Association between work environment and employee performance was identified by using correlation analysis. Means of the items of WE were obtained and ranks were provided to the various factors of work environment using RIDIT analysis. Findings/application: The review founds the need to connect work environment with the performance of workers. The managers need to study the rankings provided to the various factors of the work environment and derive the policies or make amendments as and where needed, according to the priority of the factors. This will enhance the overall performance of the employee of the organization as suggested in the study. The uniqueness of this study is, prioritizing the items of work environment with respect to employee performance by using RIDIT analysis. Hence, firms can concentrate and give utmost importance for those items to maximize workers' efficiency and hence organization performance.

1. Introduction

Employee performance (EP) is determined by various factors. Employees can put their heart and soul for the organization if the work environment (WE) is smooth and comfortable for them. Better work environment inspires the workers and increase their efficiency. Worker's mistake rate, level of novelty and teamwork with other staffs, absence and, duration of stay in the job are influenced by the way they engage with the organization,

Krupanidhi International Students Council

Handbook

About KISC

Krupanidhi as an Institution has always been welcoming students not only across India but across the globe. Krupanidhi has a current enrolment of about 3500 students at its 11-acre campus in the south of the city. With the number of International students increasing every year, Krupanidhi has formed The International Student Council, also recognised as KISC, which is a representative council of all the International student communities. International student council is the governing council that represents all international organisations on campus.

KISC addresses international student's issues and concerns with the College by representing a Council President. KISC organises events that promotes cross cultural understanding and awareness to bridge the gap between National and International and students on campus. President is elected by International student council with Board of Directors once in a year. New Council members are formed by the President after his election. Every department has two council members who represent their department. Calendar of events is formed every year for the International students. Council meeting is conducted once in a month to discuss various activities which will be held for the financial year.

The main motto of the council meetings is to pair new incoming international student freshmen and sophomores with the current KISC members so that they can learn adjust to Kupanidhi culture.

KISC organises events that promotes cross cultural understanding and awareness to bridge the gap between National and International students on campus. Student council seeks to provide support to the international students at Krupanidhi Group of Institutions by hosting cultural program every year with aim of providing a space for international organisations, to get together. Various programs which benefit the international students such as Soft skill training and counselling are conducted frequently for their International students. Students across Karnataka take part in the events in Krupanidhi Group of Institutions. This is a program focused on pairing up native speakers of one country with another student, to allow for others to learn the language. KISC also works to promote the cultural understanding by organising various events, set up by the committees

Vision:

To Bring together all the international students at Krupanidhi Group of Institutions ensuring harmony and personal/professional growth within the diverse student community whilst bridging the gap between the national and international students at the campus.

Mission:

1. Serve as a platform that ensures and enhances communication and cooperation between the International Community, KGI and other international organizations.
2. Provide support (within their capacities) to the incoming as well as existing international student population at Krupanidhi Group of Institutions.
3. Sensitize the student population at Krupanidhi Group of Institutions to different cultures and societies to ensure harmony and co-existence.

Values and behaviour that a potential KISC member should exhibit.

Integrity: Serve as a positive example

One of the most important duties of an International Students 'Council member is to serve as an example for members of the student body. Members are usually required to be in good standing in their classes and they must strive to avoid behavioural issues during and after college hours. Generally, they are expected to be helpful, courteous, and positive during college hours.

Courage : Provide an open forum

One of the major duties of the KISC member is to provide a forum where other international students can voice their issues/problems and hence, act as a liaison between the student body and faculty or administration. If a student raises an issue with the student council, members are responsible for discussing the issue, making a recommendation, and bringing the problem and potential solutions to the Management Committee Desk.

Collaboration: Organize events

The members of KISC are also responsible for organizing various educational, skill development, sports as well as intercultural programs in collaboration with different departments and organizations to unite and aid in professional development of the international student community at KGI. The KISC members are solely responsible for planning, fund management, organization and execution of those events in the campus. All such events need to be approved by the management committee.

Empathy: Service to society

The Members of KISC should also try and grasp opportunities where they can promote participation of the international student community in social service projects like blood donation, community clean-up and so on that align with KGI's mission. It is up to the KISC members to identify the area where they can be of most help and to form a plan to serve other members of the community.

Krupanidhi Group of Institutions
12/1 Chikkabellandur Village,
Carmelaram Road Post Varthur Hobli
Bangalore - 560 035

Innovation: Think out of the box

It is also the prime responsibility of the members of KISC to promote new ideas and bring them to light and notice of the KGI community. As a team, they could also venture into possibilities of start-ups that could flourish from within the institute or give wings to the ideas that come from any other member of the International Student community at KGI. Innovation could also be in area of designing of new programmes for the students and as well as fund raising activities that will help material the ideas of the council. They should also be able to design events that give opportunity for more International Students to participate from outside of KGI, such that, the KGI international student community builds strong and amiable liaison with the International Student Community Outside KGI.

Supervision by the KGI Management

The KGI management committee shall play a definitive role in both the formation as well as dissolution of the Krupanidhi International Students 'Council (KISC).

1. The KGI committee needs to be intimated about any upcoming KISC meetings and its agenda two days prior to the meeting date and the minutes of meeting need to be shared within two days post the meeting with the KGI committee via email.
2. The KGI committee reserves all rights to govern and judge the conduct of affairs by KISC at all grounds.
3. The KGI management shall have the final authority over approval or dismissal of any event planned out by KISC keeping in mind the KGI policies and the larger good of the KGI community.
4. The Board of Management/ committee on its own initiative may remove a member from the International Student Council for misconduct that affects the values and behavior that a council member should exhibit.

Post-Event Summary Report

Event Name: Basketball tournament for girls

Date: 8 February, 2020

Time: 9am to 12

Venue: Basketball court.

Purpose of the Event

To organize a sport for the girls of krupanidhi group of institutions.

Number of teams: 2

Number of players: 15 for both the teams.

Numbers of referees: 3

Summary of the Event

On 08 February, 2020 took place the the basketball tournament for girls in krupanidhi basketball court organized by the international students Council, the following were the sequences of the event:

- 1- registration of the teams by 9am
- 2-Explanation of rules by the referees by 9:40
- 3-Photoshoot with the council members by 10
- 4-Time of match from 10:30am to 11:30 with four quarters.

Problems faced

During the tournament we faced some difficulties which are the following:

Registration problems : no ones were ready to play only nursing girls accepted to play and at the last moment , the day of the match BPT and Pharmacy girls came to tell that they want to play, which created a little misunderstanding with the other team.

To solve that we give priority to nursing as without them they won't be a tournament so we allowed them to play 10(5 players and 5 substitutes) against 8 and both the teams agreed with that.

Recommendations

For the futures tournaments to close registration two days before the tournament in order to avoid problems.

Requirements

1. Trophy for the winner
2. Prizes for best player and the best scorer.
3. Medals for first and second places.

Conclusion

In conclusion the tournament was a great success with the participation of all the council members and the committee of organization.
