This Finishing School session has been conducted with the main focus on “work life Balance”. Prof.Mallaya thought, has discussed in length, various important aspects to be practiced to have work life balance.

Session started with acknowledging the present golden era of Asian countries in respect of their major role in world economic development. China a strong contender is steering ahead when compared to India in the fields of research, innovation, industry and so on. India also has promising future as 60% of Indians are youngsters, provided if there is a well preparedness of the citizens and strong intent from government machinery.

Later, Sir emphasized that the work life line starts from the age of 25 years till around 60 years and later years of life will be retirement or extended work life. However, initial years of investment at the young age during 20 to 30 years will decide the rest of peaceful and successful life an individual. Right Investment in core subject knowledge, specializations supported by soft skills will give promising future for an individual.

Sir, envisaged the magic of acrimony of ACT TO WIN, where

C- Stands communication- which essential to put forward ideas, convincing others, giving instructions and acts a catalyst to shape the individual persona

T- Stands for trustworthy- Utmost important trait which builds one’s reputation

T- Stands for team work- Working collectively with the team is success mantra to any individual at the work place, which results in group dynamics. The objectives and targets of the organization can be achieved only when group performance is effective. Hence, always group goals take prerogative in career growth.
