COMPANY VISIT

- Company Introduction

Smith and Nephew is a leading portfolio medical technology company. Since 1856, when the founder T.J. Smith developed a new method for refining cod liver oil, and in World War One when his nephew led the supply of wound care products, to the present day, Smith & Nephew continues to pioneer health solutions. Through their market leadership positions in Sports Medicine, Orthopedic Reconstruction and Advanced Wound Management, their 16,000 employees continue to improve outcomes and expand access.

- Understanding of the work process

We acquired the knowledge from there about how they are manufacturing the knee caps, elbow caps and other medical supplies, the materials they are using and how the packaging is done. They are supplying their products to almost every hospital in US.

- Learning from the work process

We learned about the whole manufacturing and the packaging process of the company's medical supplies. Also, we got to know about the history of the company and how they have tie ups with different hospitals in order to sell their products. The company focuses on providing quality products to its customers.

LEARNING FROM THE VISIT

- Learnt about US culture and got a great International exposure with valuable learning.
- Acquired helpful insights on US healthcare system and its working.
- Got a chance to explore the city of Memphis with our International friends.
- Also, gained knowledge about the working of US Universities.

STUDENT REVIEW

Overall this US visit helped me not only in exploring but also, in learning so many new things which I was unaware before. This visit gave me so many useful and helpful insights on the US healthcare system as well as on the US scholastic.

Study Program

Day 1(19th Oct):

Reached Memphis in night and was welcomed by two of the student volunteers ( Jarietta and Amanda) at the airport. The volunteers took us to University housing (Carpenter Complex) where we were allotted a house to stay which had two portions, separate for girls and boys. We were given evening snacks, a schedule and a university map for our convenience.

Day 2(20th Oct):

According to our schedule, we had our breakfast arranged in the university canteen (Tiger Den). After having a quick nap break, our program volunteer (Sapna) took us to a Thai restaurant(Ban Thai) where we had the authentic Thai lunch which was indeed mouthwatering. Then right after our lunch we had free hours in that we went for shopping.

Day 3(21st Oct):

On this day the weather was not good so, we cooked our food in the house kitchen and since it was raining our scheduled campus tour was postponed. In the noon time we had an orientation session by Ms. Rebecca Lumann who was our program coordinator. She briefed us about the dos and don'ts of this workshop. After this session we went for the campus tour with another program volunteer (Karizma) who showed us each and every building of the university and what all works are performed in that building. She also helped us in getting a student ID card so that we can have the access to University facilities freely.

Day 4(22nd Oct):

After our breakfast, we had our first lecture by Dr. Palmer on the subject Healthcare Management. Her class was really very informative as we got to learn about the working of US healthcare system, how the financing is done in their hospitals through insurance, about Medicare and Medicaid and also we did an activity to clarify your concepts of primary, secondary and tertiary healthcare. After our lunch, we went to Memphis zoo where we saw different species of birds, animals and aquariums from this we got to learn about their habitat and their origin.

Day 5(23rd Oct):

On this day we had a lecture by Dr. Balaji Krishnan on the subject International Affairs. This lecture was more of a discussion session where we learnt about the World map and its history, we discussed about the international affairs between various countries and also the issues and problems faced by different parts of the World. After the lecture we went to a small get together in the campus organized by Healthcare students where we interacted with few students over a lunch, we were accompanied by Sapna. Right after the lunch, we visited FedEx Institute of Technology we saw the working of the technical team, we learnt about the software they are using viz. Splunk and also we acquired some knowledge on their project which was related to healthcare information (data) security.

Day 6(24th Oct):

Our first lecture for this day was on Managerial Leadership which was taken by Dr. Kathy Tuberville. This lecture was a class visit where we got a chance to attend the lecture with the university students. It was indeed an interactive class as we learnt a lot about the importance of followership and leadership which was followed by a class activity discussion where we interacted and shared our knowledge with the university students. After this class we went to for lunch to an Indian restaurant which was a treat for all of us and right after lunch we had a lecture on Healthcare Economics taken by Dr. Powel where we explored more about public and private US Healthcare system.

Day7(25th Oct):

This day started off well as we visited Bass Pro Shop, an antique and amusement tower, where we saw many artifacts, antique items, camping requirements, clothes, vehicles and what not. This place is built in a pyramid like structure where on the top floor they have a restaurant from where we can see a mesmerizing view of Mississippi river and also the whole Down Town. This site visit ended well at a fancy authentic barbeque restaurant, The Ron devoir, where we had the delightful delicacy of Memphis which is barbequed food. After a fun day, we were back at university for our next lecture which was on Intermediate statistics taken by Dr. Vladimir. We got great inputs on the US demographics and statistical data and also learnt about terminologies such as anova, regression, variant and correlation. In the evening we attended a Halloween party organized by International center in the University.

Day8 (26th Oct):

This day was a holiday for us so we did our shopping and went to restaurant for lunch and dinner.

Day9 (27th Oct):

On this we visited Tangers Outlet which is a shopping center in Mississippi. We spent our whole day there and then proceeded for dinner.

Day10 (28th Oct):

On this day we had our first lecture on Software Testing and analysis taken by Dr. Robin Poston who explained us the importance of software testing. This was a knowable with lot of insights about software, testing and data analysis .After lunch we went to Crosstown where we visited Sears, Roebuck building which was initially there distribution center and retail store which is now reconstructed into a mall. After this we had free hours for rest and right after this we went for our evening class which was on Google analytics taken by Dr. Avanti Pandit. We saw the presentations from students and got the inputs about their project and also, we learnt a lot about Google analytics.

Day11(29th Oct):

Our first lecture was taken by Dr. Srikar Velichety on R-Programming. This was indeed a great experience learning new programming language. Got lot of information on the topic and did some relevant exercises. After lunch we visited Walmart store for shopping and right after this we had an evening class on Supply of Medical Care taken by Dr. Paige Powell. We attended the presentation session where we got inputs on presentations presented by University students.

Day12(30th Oct):

On this day we had our first lecture on Human Resource Management and Employees wellness taken by Dr. Kathy Tuberville who gave us sights on HRM concepts and how can we improve employees wellness. After lunch, we attended our next class on Business Machine Learning taken by Dr. Velichety where we again attended the presentation session.

Day13(31st Oct):

This day we visited Smith and Nephew manufacturing center where we saw how the company is manufacturing knee caps, elbow caps etc. It was an informative visit. After lunch we attended a class on International Affairs which was taken by Dr. Balaji where we discussed about the international affairs and interacted and shared our views with other university students. After this we had an evening class on Biostatistics taken by Dr. Mou where we learnt about regression and correlation.

Day14(1st Nov):

This day we went for shopping and visited few places. In the evening we had our Farewell party organized by the student volunteers at an Indian family restaurant where we met some new people and enjoyed the day.

Day15(2nd Nov):

It was a day off for us to do our packing.

Day16(3rd Nov):

After visiting to church we went for the India fest which happens once in a year in Memphis. We enjoyed the food at Indian stalls and spent some quality time there.

Day17(4th Nov):

This was the last day for us in Memphis and we flew back to India.

STUDY TOUR TO SINGAPORE

25 November 2019 to 30 November 2019

MBA BATCH OF 2019-2021

The date 25 November saw the MBA students, accompanied by Dr. Saritalyer and a senior Professor Dr. Thomason Rajan who were heading to Singapore were in a state of rejoicing and exultation that they would be going to a foreign land to learn about their best practices in the arena of Business as well as to learn about the Cultural differences in the different Countries and the way in which it effects the Buyer Behavior.

The first day we landed in Singapore at the most beautiful Changi Airport and we headed to check out the URA(Urban Redevelopment Authority of Singapore), where we were told about the Singapore an spride themselves in the they have enhanced and rebuilt the Infrastructure. We all visited various tourist Spots of Singapore which included a trip to China Town, a Tour of the Financial District and a must visit to the Famous symbolic protector of Singapore the Merlion.

Day 2 we visited the Monetary Authority of Singapore, where we were explained about the financial success story of the Rise of the financial structure in Singapore. We further visited the National University of Singapore Museum where contemporary art work of eclectic artists was displayed. We were very impressed by the New water plant at Singapore where we saw firsthand how water is further treated to get converted into Pure water which is used for drinking and every other purpose. We then did a Course in Design Thinking to further challenge our grey cells and learnt about the uses of Innovation and Creativity in every aspect of business. The day ended with orchestrated perfection with a beautiful Visual display of Lights and Sound at Marina bay with the Singapore Skyline at the Background.

Day 3 was a Day of Fun and frolic where we visited The Universal Studios. This day evoked the Child in us and we thoroughly enjoyed, the Roller Coaster rides as well as the Technology enhanced simulation games.

Day 4 we visited a famous Temple in Singapore presided over by a Goddess Machu. A lazy day furthered by shopping to our hearts content in the famous Shopping Mall Mustafa Throughout the four days, we were awestruck by the efficiency of the traffic management system that alerts drivers on roadblocks and plans alternate routes for them. The two year compulsory military training that all citizens have to go through seems to reflect in their way of life. People are more disciplined, the streets are well-kept, there is an order and system for every little thing. To reinforce this, warning boards are everywhere informing us on fines for violation.

The ethnic mix in Singapore comprises mainly of Chinese, Malaysian and Tamilian groups. An entire area called Little India is dedicated to Indian restaurants and shops. We were able to chat with people in Tamil, and we were surprised that some of them had never been to India at all. We were quick to extend an invite to them to come and visit South India.

Heading back to Changi Airport saw the complete team a little despondent as such a beautiful journey had come to an end. We of course, had our memoirs to last us for a lifetime.

We returned to India on the 30 November 2019 after 5 intense enriched Days, with happiness and joy of a week well spent.
